

Unit 6 – Reflection

During Unit 6 I continued my literature review assignment as the deadline was approaching.

I also learnt how to tell the difference between a good questionnaire and a poor one and how to design one.

Additionally, I started thinking of potential projects for my final module where I will need to develop a computing project.

Overall, Unit 6 was a bit stressful and felt more like a “look into the future” week.